Structural Separation

Some large health insurance companies like UnitedHealth Group, CVS Health, and Cigna Group also own or control physician practices or pharmacies. Some argue this setup creates efficiencies of scale and coordinated care. Others argue that it creates conflicts of interest when an insurer that pays for care owns or controls the practices and pharmacies that provide it. Would you [support or oppose] legislation that breaks up these large insurance conglomerates?

Prior Authorization

Prior authorization is a requirement that certain medical services or medications must be approved by an insurance company before they are covered. Insurers say that prior authorization helps control costs and ensure appropriate care, while opponents say that it often prevents patients from getting the care their doctors prescribe. Would you [support or oppose] legislation prohibiting private health insurers from using prior authorization?

Patent Extension

Big Pharma manufacturers rely on brand-name drug patent extension strategies, which, they claim, are necessary to recoup their research and development costs. Opponents argue that this patent abuse drives prescription drug costs up by preventing more affordable generic competitors from entering the market.

Would you [support or oppose] legislation prohibiting Big Pharma patent abuse?

Generic Drugs Initial

The United States no longer makes most essential medicines and instead relies on a small number of foreign producers, mostly in China, where manufacturing costs are lower. This arrangement is vulnerable to supply chain disruptions, resulting in frequent shortages. Would you [support or oppose] legislation to bring generic drug manufacturing back to the United States?

Cost-Sharing Cap

Insurers claim that cost-sharing requirements – such as deductibles, copayments, and coinsurance – lower premiums and prevent unnecessary care. Opponents argue that cost-sharing reduces access to necessary care while allowing insurers to generate more revenue. Would you [support or oppose] legislation capping how much cost-sharing insurers can require?

RV Omni 2026 June A - AELP

Online sample of 1,001 voters fielded from June 10 to June 12, 2026.

Margin of error: +/-3.9%.

This survey is based on 1,001 interviews conducted by YouGov on the internet of registered voters. The sample was weighted according to gender, age, race/ethnicity, education, and U.S. Census region based on voter registration lists, the U.S. Census American Community Survey, and the U.S. Census Current Population Survey, as well as 2020 Presidential vote and approximate 2024 Presidential vote based on available results, and party identification estimates based on Pew Research Center's National Public Opinion Reference Survey. Respondents were selected from YouGov to be representative of registered voters. The weights range from 0.05 to 6.01 with a mean of 1 and a standard deviation of 0.78.

The margin of error (a 95% confidence interval) for a sample percentage p based upon the subsetting sample is approximately 3.9%. It is calculated using the formula:

$$\hat{p} \pm 100 \times \sqrt{\frac{1 + CV^2}{n}}$$

where CV is the coefficient of variation of the sample weights and n is the sample size used to compute the proportion. This is a measure of sampling error (the average of all estimates obtained using the same sample selection and weighting procedures repeatedly). The sample estimate should differ from its expected value by less than margin of error in 95 percent of all samples. It does not reflect non-sampling errors, including potential selection bias in panel participation or in response to a particular survey.

Structural Separation

structural_separation

Categorical

Some large health insurance companies like UnitedHealth Group, CVS Health, and Cigna Group also own or control physician practices or pharmacies. Some argue this setup creates efficiencies of scale and coordinated care. Others argue that it creates conflicts of interest when an insurer that pays for care owns or controls the practices and pharmacies that provide it. Would you [support or oppose] legislation that breaks up these large insurance conglomerates?

Prior Authorization

prior_authorization

Categorical

Prior authorization is a requirement that certain medical services or medications must be approved by an insurance company before they are covered. Insurers say that prior authorization helps control costs and ensure appropriate care, while opponents say that it often prevents patients from getting the care their doctors prescribe. Would you [support or oppose] legislation prohibiting private health insurers from using prior authorization?

Patent Extension

patent_extension

Categorical

Big Pharma manufacturers rely on brand-name drug patent extension strategies, which, they claim, are necessary to recoup their research and development costs. Opponents argue that this patent abuse drives prescription drug costs up by preventing more affordable generic competitors from entering the market. Would you [support or oppose] legislation prohibiting Big Pharma patent abuse?
